Okay, so what did you like about this course and your personal sessions with Captain?

00:08

For me it meant accountability, accountability to the lifestyle that I wanna create, accountability to the lifestyle that I am creating, and accountability to the reality of the man that I want to become and am working on becoming every single day. I also love the hypnotherapy session at the end, that was pretty dope.

00:39

Go back to your time before this course. How did this course shift, change, transform you? What is the most valuable thing you got out of this course in personal sessions? Well, this course changed me in the sense of seeking more in-depth answers, looking more inward in a metaphysical sense, providing moments of clarity from the resources provided.

01:06

And especially in a time where I'm growing my business and traveling the world, the course offered the tools for me to basically draw strength from guidance and wisdom. It also taught me especially how in the kink community, things like...

01:29

you know, consent, negotiation, safety, how vital they are in the BDSM realm. Things that, you know, before I started this course, I just, I didn't necessarily take as seriously. What would you say about Captain Nemo's knowledge and teaching style? Captain Nemo is a very cut and dry type of guy.

01:55

The most interesting part is how he's able to deliver the resources and the information pretty objectively. But then like all great teachers do, he'll...

02:11

Find a way to incorporate what he finds to be profound, useful, thoughtful, impactful about the information and challenge you to do the same. What would you tell a friend, a man, if he wanted to take this course?

02:35

If there is a man who you want to be, you're probably not there yet.

02:42

Show up, be receptive, and the course has a way of kicking your ass in that direction.
